About the Artists

Peter & Saling Simon (“SIMON & SON”) have thrilled audiences around the world with their innovative programs, musical virtuosity and entertaining humor. Their performing experiences have taken them across America; yet this dynamic musical duo has reached out to uplift cultures and communities around the world. Peter and Saling have made music lovers of audiences in places as far away as New Zealand, the continent of South America, and in Asia and the Middle East, having performed in Japan, Korea, Israel, Argentina and India. They have enjoyed concertizing together in major concert halls, including Carnegie Hall, as well as a variety of other venues, including cruise ships, gymnasiums, hotels and schools.

PETER SIMON, a native of Denver, Colorado, has had a multi-faceted career. Besides being a concert pianist, he has been a university professor, artistic director of a music festival, an actor, truck driver and professional drummer. He has degrees in both philosophy and music and has been featured on two public television specials: “Profiles & Performances” and “Culture in the Country” as well as his own recent television show “Peter Simon & Friends.” Mr. Simon upholds a firm belief that classical music is meant for everyone regardless of age or background, and is delighted to share his joy of music alongside his son, Saling, in “Simon & Son.” His passion for imparting his love of beautiful music and encouraging others to study great piano literature, as well as his philanthropy, have moved him to display his talents freely in order to raise money for music scholarships and pianos in Israel and well as many school programs around the world. His hobbies are world history and hiking in the mountains.

SALING SIMON, named after his great-grandfather, showed an interest in music at the age of two. He began taking lessons from his father at the age of five and gave his first concert in front of 2,000 people at the age of six. When he was eight years old, Saling performed in Carnegie Hall and since then has toured with his father as “Simon & Son.” Saling has playing hundreds of concerts all over the world, including tours of Asia, South America and the United States. He spent some time away from touring pursuing other interests, but is now genuinely excited to be back on the road again. He is currently a junior at the University of Northern Colorado studying psychology and music. Saling has a down to earth personality, an adventurous spirit, and always enjoys having a good time, whatever that may be.
